

IFC Intercollegiate Feminist Center

for Teaching, Research and Engagement

February 2018

Intersectional Justice: Women Prisoners and Mass Incarceration

Ellen Barry, senior consultant for Women & Justice Issues Consulting, will speak about the treatment of women in U.S. prisons based on her own legal and advocacy work. Her current projects focus on rape of women in prisons by correctional staff; improving the quality of medical and supportive care for pregnant women in county jails; challenging the practice of shackling pregnant women in custody; expanding restorative justice work to include people who are currently and formerly incarcerated; creating abolition and racial justice strategies; and supporting infrastructure and funding for grassroots organizations working for racial and social justice. Barry is the recipient of MacArthur and Soros Justice Fellowships; she founded the pioneering Legal Services for Prisoners With Children in 1978 and is a co-founder of Critical Resistance and the National Network of Women Prisoners, and she holds a J.D. from NYU.

Monday, February 19, 4:15 p.m., the Hampton Room, Malott Commons, Scripps College

Lunch Honoring 2017 Grace Berry Award Recipients

The recipients of the 2017 Grace Berry Award for Women in Graduate Studies will be honored at a luncheon on February 15, where they will give presentations about their work. The award is made possible by a gift from Pomona alumna Margarita Horner to honor the founder of the Pomona branch of the American Association of University Women.

Madison Clark is pursuing M.A. degrees in Applied Women's Studies and History at CGU. She holds a B.A. in History and a minor in Theatre from Auburn University. She hopes to work with sexual assault victims and/or teach the history of black women during Reconstruction.

JungJa Joy Yu is a doctoral candidate in Women's Studies in Religion at CGU. She holds a B.S. in Life Science from Sogang University, an M.A. from Claremont School of Theology (producing a book, Breaking the Glass Box: A Korean Woman's Experiences of Spiritual Formation), and an M.Div. from Fuller Theological Seminary. Her dissertation focuses on leadership models and spirituality of Asian women in Christian ministry and the sexist culture in immigrant evangelical churches in the U.S. She seeks to raise women's voices and empower them as leaders.

HEIDI GRUNEBAUM EVENTS

A Conversation on Healing: Truth and Reconciliation and Restorative Justice

Tuesday, March 20, 12:15–1:15 p.m.
Hampton Room, Scripps College

Film Screening of The Village Under the Forest, with Q & A

Thursday, March 22, 4:15–5:30 p.m.
CMC, the Mgrublian Center for Human Rights, Kravis Center, Lower Court 62

Student Activist Networking Lunch

Friday, March 23, noon–1:00 p.m.
Vita Nova Conference Room 104, Scripps College
Lunch will be provided. RSVP to ifc@scrippscollege.edu. Limited space.

Presentation with Heidi Grunebaum: Arts and Archives of Complicity: Rethinking the Subjects of State Violence"

Tuesday, March 27, 4:15–5:30 p.m.
Hampton Room, Scripps College

ConverAction

(Scripps Community)
Thursday, March 29, 4:15–5:30 p.m.
Hampton Room, Scripps College

Class Visits – If you are interested in meeting with Ms. Grunebaum, please contact IFC.

HEIDI GRUNEBAUM IN RESIDENCE MARCH 19-30

Heidi Grunebaum holds the position of Senior Researcher at the Center for Humanities Research (CHR), University of the Western Cape, South Africa and is a public scholar, activist, and poet. Her work focuses on social and aesthetic responses to the afterlives of genocide, war and mass violence, specifically the Holocaust, apartheid and the Nakba in Israel-Palestine. She has worked and written extensively on the Truth and Reconciliation Commission in post-apartheid South Africa. Her writing appears in international academic, activist and creative publications.

*Heidi Grunebaum's visit will include a showing of her award-winning documentary, The Village Under the Forest (dir. Mark Kaplan). The Village Under the Forest explores the question, "What happened in '48?" stripping back the layers of myth, from denial to stories of mass genocide, telling the real story through the hidden remains of the destroyed Palestinian village of Lubyia.*

More Upcoming Events

Roundtable: An Invisible Minority: Asian American and Pacific Islander Women At The 1977 National Women's Conference

Judy Tzu-Chun Wu, Professor of Asian American Studies, UC Irvine and students will discuss their research project on the participation of Asian American and Pacific Islander women in the historic 1977 National Women's Conference.

Thursday, March 1 ~ 4:15 - 5:30 pm

Founders Room, Honnold Mudd Library

Presentation with Rachel VanSickle-Ward, Associate Professor of Political Studies, Pitzer: The Politics of the Pill: Gender, Framing and Policymaking in the Battle over Birth Control

Monday, April 2 ~ 12:00 – 1:00 pm

Vita Nova Conference Room 104, Scripps College

Lunch will be provided. RSVP to ifc@scrippscollege.edu. Limited space.

Amanda Apgar, Visiting Instructor in Gender & Women's Studies, Pomona College

Friday, April 20 ~ 12:00 – 1:00 pm

Vita Nova Conference Room 104, Scripps College

Migrant Futures: Decolonizing Speculation in Financial Times by Aimee Bahng Book Launch, TBA

Visit our website for more events.

IFC Intercollegiate
Feminist Center
for Teaching, Research and Engagement

colleges.claremont.edu/ifc ~ 909-607-3250 ~ ifc@scrippscollege.edu